Ten Cents

The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Larceny is the Game

Don't be a thief in your favorite chain department store—they've got the answer to guys like you.

For all the merchandising brains they gathered together in the front office, it took them a generation of living with this pesky problem before they solved it—and the solution is so simple that you'll hate yourself for not having told them how to do it a couple of years ago.

Every year customers are bilked of their merchandise by plain, old everyday citizens who pick up packages either paid for or charged. People being as careless as they are have encouraged this easy theft.

The little old lady or elderly man easily explains that it was his confusion that caused him to pick up your package — if you catch him doing it.

The more brazen thieves lift it off the shelf and march to the return window, demanding their money back for any of a number of valid-sounding reasons.

In the first instance, the store suffers a loss of customer confidence. Who wants to shop at a store where security is so lax that your carefully chosen purchases are lifted from you?

In the second instance, pilferage and thievery adds to the store's cost of doing business. This cost immediately trickles down to you — so who wants it?

Stealing has been so easy in larger stores that it surprising that they take in any money at all. It has cost stores millions of dollars annually because they couldn't devise a system to thwart these amateurs.

We shed no tear for the department store operator, many of whom foist shoddy merchandise off on the unwary consumer, all the while advertising it as something exceptional when it actually isn't. But you pay the tab eventually for the added cost of doing business and if thievery is stopped, you should, theoretically, at least, save a buck in the family operational cost. So if the public saves on the newly developed control, we're happier for the discovery of it.

The controlling device is as simple as we suggested.

Here's how it works

The customer drags his "purchase" up to the exchange window.

The clerk no longer questions him about it. She writes up a refund slip in the amount of the tag on the merchandise.

Then she asks for identification. This is where they separate the sheep from the goats.

If the merchandise is stolen, the guy usually explains that his wife has his ID card and she is either in another part of the store, or at home with the card.

The clerk holds the merchandise because she has written up the credit slip. The cash, she assures the "customer" will be handed to him as soon as he returns with his identification.

Very often—too often, in fact—the "customer fails to return. The merchandise goes back to the person who originally bought it, or back on the shelf—as the case may be.

The theft-prone "customer" has only one way to go now. He's got to get it out of the store. When he walks out of the door with merchandise for which he has no sales slip he faces the prospect of immediate arrest.

It's when he leaves the store with the merchandise that he has provided unquestionable evidence that larceny was intended.

Retreat From Power

We are never sure whether Robert Strange McNamara speaks for himself or is speaking for the Pentagon when he makes pronouncements regarding our military posture.

We are encouraged by him to be assured that we have the best and the most.

His sometime esoteric revelations about our might often leaves just a shadow of doubt as to the veracity of his statements. And now comes a study by the House Armed Services Committee developed from material prepared by the American Security Council, which shows that the U. S. has exchanged its goal of a war winning strategic superiority for a strategy of mutual deterrence with U.S.S.R. This would seem to prove that Secretary McNamara speaks through his hat.

U.S.S.R., the report notes, seeks strategic superiority designed to win a nuclear war rather than merely deter one and it backs up this statement with the intelligence that U.S.S.R. "is driving hard toward a goal of overwhelming superiority in the decisive field of nuclear weaponry."

Using unclassified material, the report paints a distressing picture. Here is the frightening trend reported by your Armet can Security Council. Compare it with what Secretary of Defense McNamara would have us believe.

ASC reports:

1962 — U. S. delivery capability 25,000-50,000 megatons.

1962 — U.S.S.R. delivery capability 6,000-12,000 megatons.

1967 — U. S. megatonnage, 8,000-29,000.

U.S.S.R. — 16,000-37,000 megatonnage. In spite of McNamara's assurance, Russia has surpassed the U. S. in nuclear power — and it was done with the approval of the Johnson Administration.

ASC forecasts that by 1971 U. S. capability will be 6,000-15,000 megatons while Russia will be able to deliver 30,000-50,000 megatons.

We have allowed U. S. and Russia to reverse its nuclear roles in just 10 short years!

ASC adds "the U. S. does not appear to have a superior position in deliverable strategic weapons."

ASC also reports that while we have 934 ICMs vs. Russia's 349, theirs will yield at least 4,000 megatons while ours can produce only 1,640.

That Russia has 750 various models of intermediate range missiles with an average warhead of one megaton. "U. S. has no comparable missiles nor is it developing any," says ASC.

Strategic bombers, 1,110 to 680 with Russia having the most. The ASC study is critical of McNamara's bomber policy, noting that the Air Force plans to replace obsolete bombers were discarded by the secretary.

The report complains that 22 Polaris submarines on station at any one time is not adequate for a four-ocean defense.

Grossmont High District Adopts Drug Policy

Grossmont Union High School Trustees initiated the first policy by a school district against the sale, use, or possession of information about narcotics, marijuana, and other dangerous drugs in action taken last Monday night.

The local educators approved a policy which sets a penalty of expulsion from school for anyone involved in such cases if the violation occurs on school property or at school-sponsored events.

Superintendent John T. Warburton explained that the school district's jurisdiction over occurrences not connected with the school would be questionable. His statement came after Trustee George Birch had come out in favor of making the policy broad enough so as to cover any drug violation, regardless of the place of occurrence.

Supt. Warburton added that the State Legislature is being asked to give the school authority over such incidents.

The new policy will become part of the Grossmont District's narcotics education plan. The program was announced by the board last week and will be presented to the trustees Sept. 6.

Warburton made it clear that any student involved with marijuana, narcotics, LSD and other dangerous drugs at school will be faced with expulsion from all Grossmont District schools.

It was indicated that students expelled from the area district's schools for narcotics involvement last year have been unable to gain admission to any high schools in the county.

10 students expelled last year had expulsions relaxed by the Trustees last Monday night. Provisional permission was granted to four to re-enter school next year. Two had their expulsions taken away and the remaining four were given permission to enter the district's continuation school in Santee.

A mandatory narcotics education course will be provided for some 16,000 teenagers attending the district's high schools next year it was announced by the trustees last week. It was another move in an effort to discourage the use of dangerous drugs by students in the area high schools.

Dr. Stanley McClintic and a committee of 12 teachers are currently in the process of developing the narcotics courses for the students.

The courses will be built around a pamphlet produced by the San Diego Unified School District and republished by the Grossmont District last spring. Three films on the use of drugs and narcotics will also be included in the course.

In other action taken by the Board of Trustees last night, a final budget was adopted which reduced the previously approved tax increase of 23 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation to 5 cents.

A school aid measure approved by the Legislature opened the door for the reduction in the tax rate, explained Supt. Warburton.

The $6 million bond issue slated for election on Oct. 17 will be the only measure on the ballot according to Warburton. Earlier it had appeared that the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District would try to have a tax override election on the same ballot.

Grossmont Hospital was also removed as wanting a spot on the October ballot to seek approval of a construction bond for a 10-story hospital addition.

If the bond election is approved in the October voting, one of the projects which will begin is the construction of the ninth high school in the district.

COMPLETED — A $45,000 remodeling project was completed last week by R. A. Weeks Construction Co. on the Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary at 7387 Broadway.

Both inside and outside of the structure were completely redesigned. New furnishings will be installed this week. Open house is planned for sometime in September.

Hospital Budget Soars As Tax Rate Goes Down

With the adoption of its largest operating budget, Grossmont Hospital trustees also announced last week a reduction in the property tax rate for the coming year's operation.

Last year's budget was topped by a 19 per cent increase, with the total operating expense tab amounting to $4.9 million. $4.2 million was the figure the hospital had to work with last year.

The tax rate dropped three cents off the mark of last year, with the trustees asking 8 cents for each $100 assessed valuation. The reduction was due primarily to increased assessments according to Levert Bristol, chief hospital administrator.

A two week delay was placed on the decision of proposing a multimillion-dollar bond issue to pay the cost of construction of a 10-story addition to the present hospital capacity of 284 beds.

At the Aug. 16 meeting of the Trustees, Bristol will have more information on the construction proposal.

Hospital charges and patient revenue will account for the financing of the budget approved last week. The tax assessment will be utilized in the obtaining of hospital equipment and construction.

Grossmont Hospital recently financed at pay increase for the hospital employees by raising the patient rates to $40 a day for a patient in a two-bed room. This charge is only one dollar less than the county average.

Bristol listed three main reasons for the reduction in the operating tax rate, including a decrease in the purchases of hospital equipment, a decrease in the amount of interest which must be paid on construction bonds, and a hike in the assessed valuation in the district.

An overcrowding patient population is posing a problem for the hospital. During the past year, occupancy in nearly every department had gone up from nearly 70 to 80 per cent.

The 10-story addition awaiting a vote by the Trustees is one of the long-range plans of Grossmont Hospital to increase its bed space to over 500 beds. Cost of the addition may run up to $9 million according to Bristol, but full cost estimates have not yet been drawn up.

L.G. School District OKs 1967-68 Budget

The Lemon Grove School Board approved an increase of $74,000 in the 1967-68 budget Monday night.

The increase brings to the total of the budget to $2,535,942 but it will cause no increase in the school tax rate, according to Paul Reynolds, district business manager.

The increase is in anticipation of at least that amount being provided to the district by the newly approved State Support legislation. The bill was approved late in the final period of the Legislature and the exact amount to be supplied to the Lemon Grove district is not known.

Reynolds said there was no plan to change property tax rate.

"We're planning to hold the line," he said.

with six charter members. This meeting took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Blaine, who remain active members of the church. The group met in the Blaine home for one month, then rented the V.F.W. Hall, where the congregation met for 15 months. The first property purchased by the church was at School lane and Central ave., which are now the facilities purchased and in use by the Lemon Grove Fire Department. As the church program increased in its effectiveness, a need and desire for more property and larger facilities became apparent.

In 1948, the church entered into negotiations to purchase the present property at Burnell avenue and Main street. A new structure was built totaling $60,000 which is now used for educational purposes. In 1954, the Seventh Day Adventist Church offered the First Baptist Church the first option to buy its property and building located adjacent to the southwest corner of Main and Burnell. The membership purchased this additional property and initiated another bond program for $45,000. The congregation has used this building until the present time, adding additional buildings in 1958.

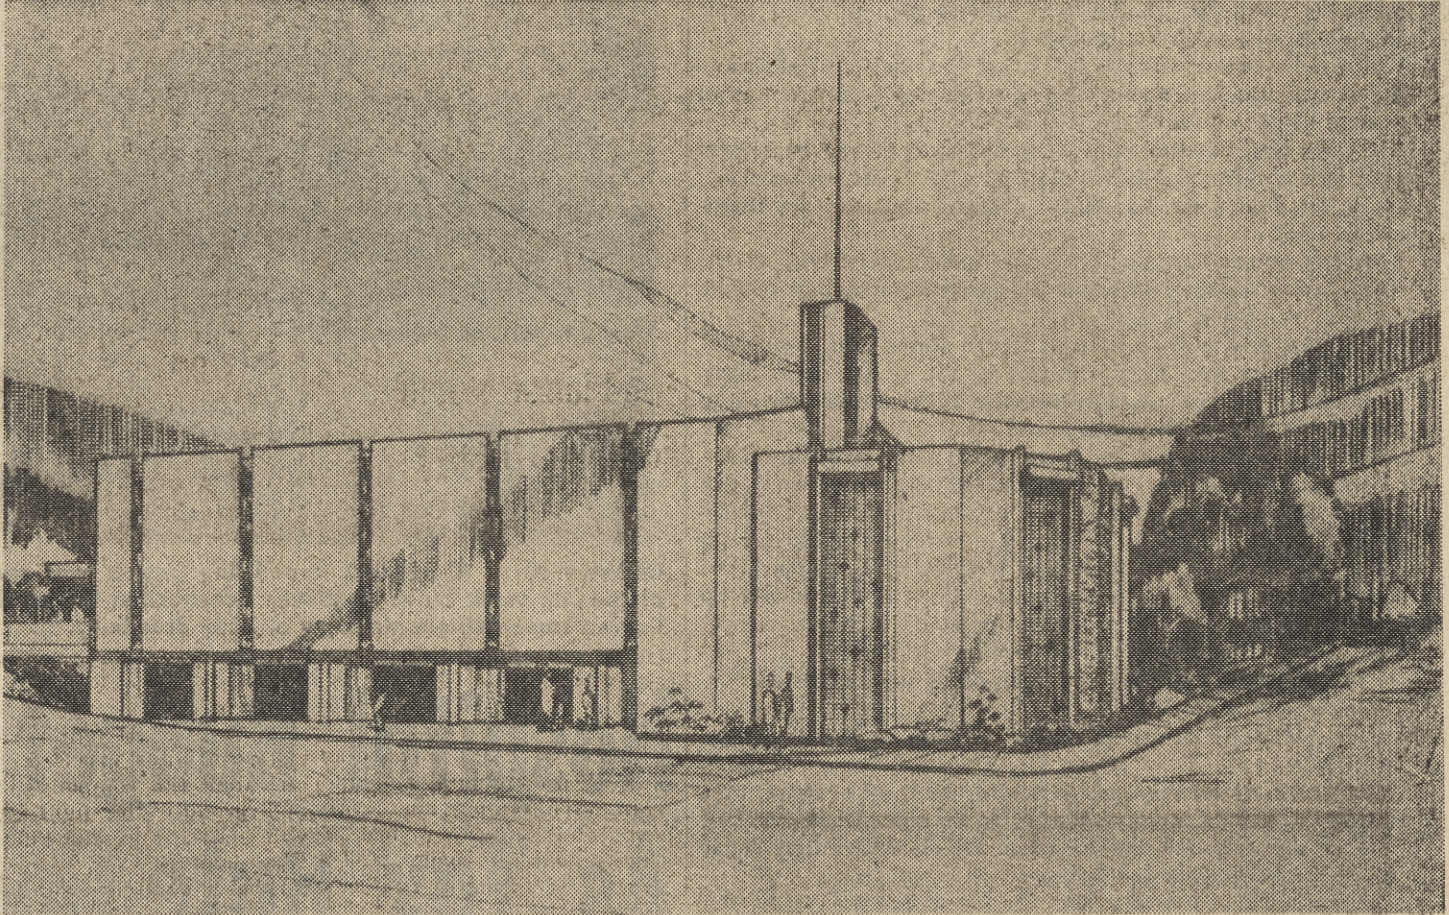

On June 9, the congregation of the church observed the ground breaking for a new $190,000 three story sanctuary building. The 134 x 50 ft. building will be of frame and stucco, with stone veneer being used on the outside front. The ground floor will be for recreation and kitchen use, and four nursery rooms. The auditorium, which will seat approximately 450 persons, the church office, choir room, pastor's study, and several Bible classrooms will take up the second story. The third story will be used for educational purposes. The auditorium, offices and nurseries will be air-conditioned.

Extensive remodeling on the present educational building is being done, and all other existing structures on the southwest corner will be demolished for a paved parking area. Completion of this new structure is expected around March 1, 1968.

Pastors previously serving the church were Dallas C. Bivins, 1942-1945; Kenneth B. Echols, 1945-1946; J. Morris Mulkey, 1946-1954; Bob G. Rochelle, 1955-1959; and W. A. Shoopman, 1960-1965. In December of 1965, Rev. Robert E. Kleinschmidt became the church pastor. Other staff members include Robert S.

INITIAL PURCHASE: The first property purchased by the Baptist church was at School Lane and Central ave. shown above with were later sold and the grounds are now the site of the Lemon Grove Fire Department.

IN THE FUTURE: Architect David L. Mitchell's sketch shows the new $190,000 three-story sanctuary building to be constructed for the congregation of the Lemon Grove First Baptist Church. Completion of this new structure is expected around March 1, 1968. Money has also been appropriated for a parking facility at the church site.

Kiwanis Club Given Salesmanship Talk

The Spring Valley Kiwanis Club had its weekly breakfast-meeting Aug. 2 at Alfonso's Pizza In., with Clarence Burdette, assistant manager of the Motor Car Dealers' Association of San Diego County, as guest speaker. Burdette is a member of the Downtown Kiwanis Club.

Speaking on salesmanship, Burdette said the most important item in business is the customer. He said there will be over 970,000 salesmen needed during 1967 throughout the country to handle the many new and older products that are on the market. However, he pointed out, it is up to the salesman to convince the customer that he or she needs his particular item. Many persons will remember the slogan attached to a product, but not the product itself, Burdette stressed. He said companies are spending millions of dollars each year to try to come up with some catchy slogan to sell their merchandise.

Burdette said that if a salesman didn't impress a customer, then nothing happens. He said, "Enthusiasm is knowledge on fire." Good salesmanship not only applies to the selling of goods but to many other fields. He said in college football a good coach must sell his team on their possibility of winning, with the idea that "if the other team loses, then we win."

Speaking of the automobile business, Burdette said there is one out of every seven people in the United States employed in the automobile business. He said it has been brought out that it takes little effort to acquire good customer relations. He said a good car salesman remembers three things: getting the customer's attention; treating him with the utmost courtesy; and giving him what he deserves.

Burdette said the Motor Car Dealers Association is taking extensive steps to add better customer relations. And as part of that program they have published "The Ten Commandments of Good Business."

It was brought out at the Kiwanis meeting that the annual picnic for Division 13, will be this Sunday, at 10 a.m. in Pine Valley Park, Highway 80. Everyone is to bring a picnic lunch for his family. Coffee, punch and ice cream will be provided. Main business will be the election of a Lt. Governor for Division 31. There are two candidates: Frank Berger of the Spring Valley club; and Paul Clay of the Alpine club. Installation of the new Lt. Governor will be sometime near the end of the year.

Jefferson Airplane To Appear in S.D.

The Jefferson Airplane, leader of the new San Francisco sound wave, will appear here in concert, Friday, September 1, in San Diego's Community Concourse at 8 p.m.

The two-hour concert will also feature the originators of "The Flower Generation", The Seeds and a specially prepared light show, similar to those produced at the Fillmore Auditorium and the Avalon Ballroom in the Haight-Ashbury district of San Francisco. Strout Man, the company which will produce the light show, will be using ten slide and film projectors, two overhead stroboscopic lights, oil lamps and other unique equipment to achieve the special lighting effects.

Children's Zoo Program Aids Handicapped

"Graduation" exercises were held in the Clark Theater at the San Diego Zoo, when 225 children — and a Pigmy Chimpanzee — completed work for the Children's Zoo Summer School.

The children, 90 of whom are physically handicapped, received certificates from Betty Peach, Evening Tribune Staff Writer.

A special certificate was presented to "Linette", a one year old Bonobo Chimpanzee, who completed a "course" in finger painting.

This is the eighth summer that the Children's Zoo has had a program for younger children, according to Patricia Kline, the teacher. Originally started as a program for handicapped children, summer school was expanded seven years ago to include the non-handicapped second grade children. The school acquaints the children with Zoo animals and instills an appreciation of nature. Activities included Zoo tours, handling of harmless animals, and art projects. Members of the Senior Horizon Club, Camp Fire Girls, assisted in the program.

The Zoo also conducts classes for children at other grade levels through senior high school and college.

Two Locals Honored By S.D. Heart Assn.

The continuing interest in heart research is evidenced by 319 Memorial Gifts, totaling $2,647.63, given in July to the San Diego County Heart Association according to Steve G. Oberg.

Oberg, Memorial Committee chairman, said groups and individuals make Memorial contributions the year around.

"These are people and organizations wishing to make more than a momentary gesture of respect," said Oberg. "They find that a Memorial Gift honoring a relative, a friend or an associate, is long-lasting and satisfying because it is earmarked for research to save other lives from heart disease."

Oberg said 181 persons were so honored in July. Members of the Lemon Grove community included: Minnie M. Slay, 7824 Deborah place and W. S. Williams, 7820 Degorah place.

Choral Auditions Slated For Sept.

Women interested in choral singing are invited to audition for membership in the San Diego Choral Club on September 7 and 14. Vocal training is not required, but experience in church or school choral groups is helpful. Second sopranos and altos are especially needed, according to Mrs. Richard Paul Maschner, membership chairman.

The San Diego Choral Club is beginning its 29th season this year. It offers concerts in spring and winter and presents a scholarship annually to a highly-deserved Golden "E" voice student.

Our anti-submarine warfare is "meager" in the light of the Soviet growing undersea threat.

The ASC subcommittee is particularly critical of the U. S. failure to develop space weapons, noting that Soviet space programs "are run entirely by military men with military goals foremost in mind." The Russians are diligently exploring the military uses of aerospace, just as they are hydro-space, the Committee reports.

Concluding its findings, the Committee takes note of a "monstrous, new, terrible weapon" — code named Scrag — described as an orbital missile (whose) warheads can deliver a surprise blow on the first or any orbit around the earth."

The Committee calls for an anti-ballistic missile system. "By replacing our sole reliance on ICMS, Polaris and Poseidon missiles and the remaining manned bomber force," it says, "the U. S. has placed itself in the dangerous position of having only one option left if it is faced with a Soviet ultimatum to surrender. It must either fire its offensive nuclear weapons or give up its sovereignty."

Hell's Angels—Jr. Grade

Those who regard the rebellious, defiant, lawless, Hell's Angels as representative of all motorcycle-riding youths will be quietened to learn that it simply ain't so.

There's a new breed who ride those underpowered, foreign-made motorbikes. These vehicles do not have the speed, the roar, nor freeway privileges of their big brothers but nothing could better represent the rising generation just getting ready for a taste of life.

In this context we did a double take when one of our 17-year old employees told another — of the same generation — the reason he was carrying a pocketful of bubble gum.

"Girls," he admitted.

"I can give any girl a ride on my Yamaha and a package of bubble gum and she's my steady," he said.

Classes for beef, dairy cattle, sheep and swine are offered, and some 2,000 entries from throughout the state are expected to fill the junior division area during the first week of the Fair.

Highlight of the junior show is the junior market sale, scheduled for Thursday, Aug. 31. The sale is sponsored by the Fair, the California Pork Producers Association and the California Livestock Marketing Association.

Entries close Friday, Aug. 18, in the 4-H home economics division. Categories of competition include clothing and home furnishing.

A 4-H fashion parade will take place during the Fair, with 4-H models wearing "special award" clothing.

Additional premiums for livestock competitors are offered in showmanship. "Special awards" will be presented by statewide organizations and registered breed clubs to 4-H'ers with champion livestock during a presentation on Friday, Sept. 1.

Mt. Miguel Student Enrolled In University of Americas

Phillip Nowak, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Nowak, 1954 Fairhaven st., Lemon Grove, is enrolled this summer at the University of the Americas located in Mexico City, the fifth largest city in the world.

Phillip Nowak

Because the over 2,000 students at UA are not only from the United States but from more than 40 other countries, the school plays a distinctive role in intercultural and international education. Accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, the University has a larger enrollment of American students than any other school abroad.

Classes are taught in English by an internationally trained faculty but practically all students learn Spanish not only in the classroom but through their association with the people of Mexico. Most of them live in college-approved private Mexican homes and as a result become familiar with the customs and daily lives of their hosts.

Nowak is a student at Mt. Miguel High School.

Secretary Terry Ginley and General Manager James R. White. The firm is in its third month of operation in the area. The high school will be the largest ever erected in San Diego County.

Young Lemon Grove Construction Firm Awarded $4,209,500 High School Job

A Lemon Grove construction company formed only three months ago will build the largest high school ever erected in San Diego county. White, Shirley and Wark Construction, 7973 North ave., has been given the $3,869,000 contract for Patrick Henry High School by the San Diego City Schools Board of Education.

White, Shirley, and Wark began operations in Lemon Grove on May 1 of this year. According to Jim White, the local partner, this area was selected because of its "central location and accessibility to major freeways." White likes his choice. "I think that, probably, the $4,209,500 business we've done in the first three months is more than any body else in Lemon Grove would do in a year." In addition to the Henry High contract the company has a $340,000 grant to build the El Cajon County Welfare Building.

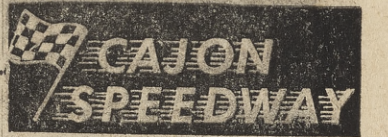

White has been active in San Diego area construction for over 16 years. He was formerly with the Cotton Construction Co. which was liquidated last year after Cotton's death. White formed the new Lemon Grove firm around a nucleus of former Cotton employees. W. G. Shirley, another partner, is an Orange County contractor and Wilson J. Wark, the third partner, is a retired contractor living in the Los Angeles area.

The Patrick Henry contract is typical of the business White plans for his organization. He said the company will work only on "public-funded projects," projects backed by local, state, national or special agency funds for which all work must be bonded. According to White the company will operate only in the "competitive bidding field" and will "take its chances with the competition."

The new contract is the second largest ever awarded for a school building under college level in the San Diego area. Only the contract for the Mesa Junior College complex was larger. Patrick Henry High School, which will serve the San Carlos and Del Cerro areas, is to have 220,000 square feet of floor space. Nine major buildings, five minor buildings, an amphitheater and a concrete seating area for sporting events are included in the initial facility.

The new school will open in September, 1968, after a seven-month construction period. White estimates that an average of 50 people per month will be employed by his company during that period. The figure will jump to about 150 people per month, however, with the inclusion of employees of subcontractors for grading, mechanical and electrical work.

Grading on the site has already begun and White expects underground construction to start August 21. He said the company would work on the high school for two or three months before bidding on another job.

Area Boys Get Chance To Try Gridiron Sport

The Los Toros Pop Warner Football Club, the pioneer of organized youth football in San Diego area, will be going into its eighth season of operation this fall.

The local association was formed back in 1958, with Al Burke, present Commissioner of Pop Warner Football in California, and Shorty Bannister doing a major part of the pioneering work.

Originally, the Los Toros league comprised the area of Lemon Grove, Spring Valley and Skyline, but this season Skyline has formed its own association, leaving Lemon Grove and Spring Valley to be tapped for players by the Los Toros Club.

This season Los Toros will field three teams for competition throughout the county, with two Pee Wee and a single Midget division team slated for operation.

Around 150 boys have registered for the tryouts so far this season according to information released by Mrs. Dalynne Arrasmith, publicity director for the local circuit. Approximately 180 boys signed up last season and at least the same number is expected for the current campaign.

Boys can sign-up any night after 5 p.m. at Mt. Vernon School in Lemon Grove where the boys are in the midst of extensive calisthenics sessions. The teams will eventually be moved to Mt. Miguel High in Spring Valley when the grass at the local high school field is ready for use. The Mt. Miguel field is expected to be available for team practice September 1.

"We'll be practicing at the Sky Grove Pony League field next week, following the calisthenics program," said Coach Bannister, who will pilot the Midget team this season.

Bannister has coached a team in the Los Toros Club for seven straight years and has led teams in all four of the divisions: Pee Wee, Midget, Junior Bantam, and Bantam.

"It's hard to say which age and weight group I enjoyed coaching the most," said Bannister. "I guess it would be the older boys because you can go into more intricate football theory with them."

"When we started this club we were the only team in San Diego County," continued Bannister. "We used to have to go as far as Las Vegas to play our ball games."

The league has played all its home games at Mt. Miguel High getting permission from the Grossmont High School District to use the local facilities.

"The high schools have everything to gain from aiding the Pop Warner program," emphasized Bannister. "The boys who are playing Pop Warner now will be playing on the high school teams in a few years."

"I had coached a majority of the boys who were in the starting line-up for Mt. Miguel High last season," stated Bannister. "A lot of these boys would never have thought of playing high school football, if they hadn't started in Pop Warner."

Los Toros's two Pee Wee teams will be backed up by a clinic team. All the boys who don't make the teams will be placed on this clinic team and can work their way up onto the regular team during the season.

"Our clinic team gives assurance that every boy will get a chance to play some football," explained Bannister. "If a boy doesn't produce on the regular team he can be dropped down and replaced by someone who is doing a good job on the clinic team. It would be senseless to drop a boy completely because he doesn't produce in the first practices. This way if he shows marked improvement, he can still make it up to the regular Pee Wee team."

"My midget team will not have a clinic team, but I will create a taxi squad which will run on the same principle as the clinic set-up," said Bannister. "On my team I will not cut anybody until the final practice before the season begins." I want to give the boys a chance to show everything they have to offer. The boys are the people we are out here for and they are the ones that deserve the chance to show what they can do."

"We'd be missing the whole point of youth athletics if we didn't give the boys the chance they deserve," continued Bannister.

The Los Toros Club season will get underway around September 16, with the local clubs being placed in either the National or American league of the San Diego Pop Warner Football Federation.

"It really doesn't matter to us which league we get in," said Bannister. "The winner of each league will play the other for the right to represent their division in the Mother Goose Bowl."

The Pee Wee division in Pop Warner has a maximum weight allowance of 95 lbs. for ages 10-12. Midget weight level is set at 115 lbs., with boys between the ages of 11 and 13 eligible to play. Los Toros will not field junior bantam or bantam teams this season. Those divisions are for the older and bigger boys.

The cost for one boy to sign-up is $15. If two boys from the same family sign-up the fee is $25, and if three boys sign-up the cost is $30.

Publicity director Mrs. Arrasmith pointed out that it costs the league $45 for each new uniform it buys for a boy. The Los Toros Club makes up the difference in money between registration fee and the cost of the uniform. The fee includes insurance for the boys.

Bill Smith and Tim Miller will have one of the Pee Wee teams and Bud Taylor and Don Etherton will pilot the other.

President of the Los Toros Football Club this season is Bob Flemming, with Walt Pullan providing able assistance as the vice-president. Jim MacPherson is in charge of finances and Mona Lancaster will do the secretarial work.

Nikki's Cradle

Local Woman To Offer Own Fashions in Baby Business

Overcoming illness which forced a complete change in her activities, a Spring Valley woman has brought a new business to this area. Nikki's Baby Cradle, a baby and infant's wear shop at 9031 Campo rd., Spring Valley, has been opened by Mrs. Nikki Menconi.

Mrs. Menconi's shop opened in a Lemon Grove location on May 5 and moved to the Spring Valley address early last month. One specialty will be baby shower gifts which Mrs. Menconi described as "sometimes impossible to get easily." "I hope to fill a new market and give people something well suited to the particular shower and distinctive too," she commented.

In addition to nationally advertised baby and infant products, Mrs. Menconi plans to sell many garments of her own design and manufacture. "I hope to fill a specialty market in the area," said Mrs. Menconi. "I plan on making most of my merchandise and as I don't make any two things alike each gift will be different and distinctive." She plans special sales and opening events through October 30.

The new businesswoman has been a Spring Valley resident for the last three years and has lived in the San Diego area for seven years. "I like Spring Valley very much. I like the people here and the area itself, much better than any other community I have lived in," she said.

For three years Mrs. Menconi was associated with the Flying Samaritans, a group of physicians in the San Diego area who fly into Baja California to operate seven medical clinics in the remote areas of the Mexican peninsula. She was a member of their Board of Directors until illness forced her to withdraw from the governing body. After she began to recover she opened her new business, Miss Eileen Mallonee, a family friend from Yakima, Washington, has come to Spring Valley to help Mrs. Menconi begin her new business.

101 Years Young

Spring Valley Was Desert When Amanda Angle Arrived

Mrs. Amanda C. Angle, 9685 La Mar st., Spring Valley, quietly celebrated the morning of her 101st birthday August 2 at the home of her youngest son, Harry J. Angle, 55, at 4778—62nd st., in San Diego. In the afternoon she was given a grand tour of Sea World on her first visit there.

James D. Seale, Field Representative of the El Cajon Social Security District Office, presented Mrs. Angle with a personal birthday greeting card from Robert M. Ball, Commissioner of the Social Security Administration.

Mrs. Angle was born in Putnam, Co., Indiana, August 2, 1866. She grew up in West Virginia and married Dave Angle in 1885 at St. Albans, West Virginia. In 1890 she, her husband and one child came west in a covered wagon and lived in Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona before arriving in San Diego in 1925. She has been a resident of San Diego County since then. She said that the place where she lives now in Spring Valley was just desert land then.

She received Social Security benefits as the wife of Dave Angle from December 1950 until he passed away in 1961 and has received widow's benefits since. She said, "I think Social Security has been a life saver. I don't know what I would have done without my benefits."

Mrs. Angle also elected full coverage under Medicare effective July 1, 1966, but has had no occasion as yet to make use of it. She appeared to be in excellent health and said she had never been hospitalized.

She leads an active and vigorous life. Her physical appearance greatly belies her age and she moves about with a spritely pace that amazes her much younger relatives. This past Sunday she was the center of attraction at a family picnic outing.

She said she didn't realize that she was growing old until she was 99—then she "woke up." She attributes her long life to "clean living and hard work." She still enjoys crocheting, knitting and quilting, but says she doesn't read as much as she used to. She does the dishes and makes her own bed daily.

Mrs. Angle raised 10 children, 5 of them still living.

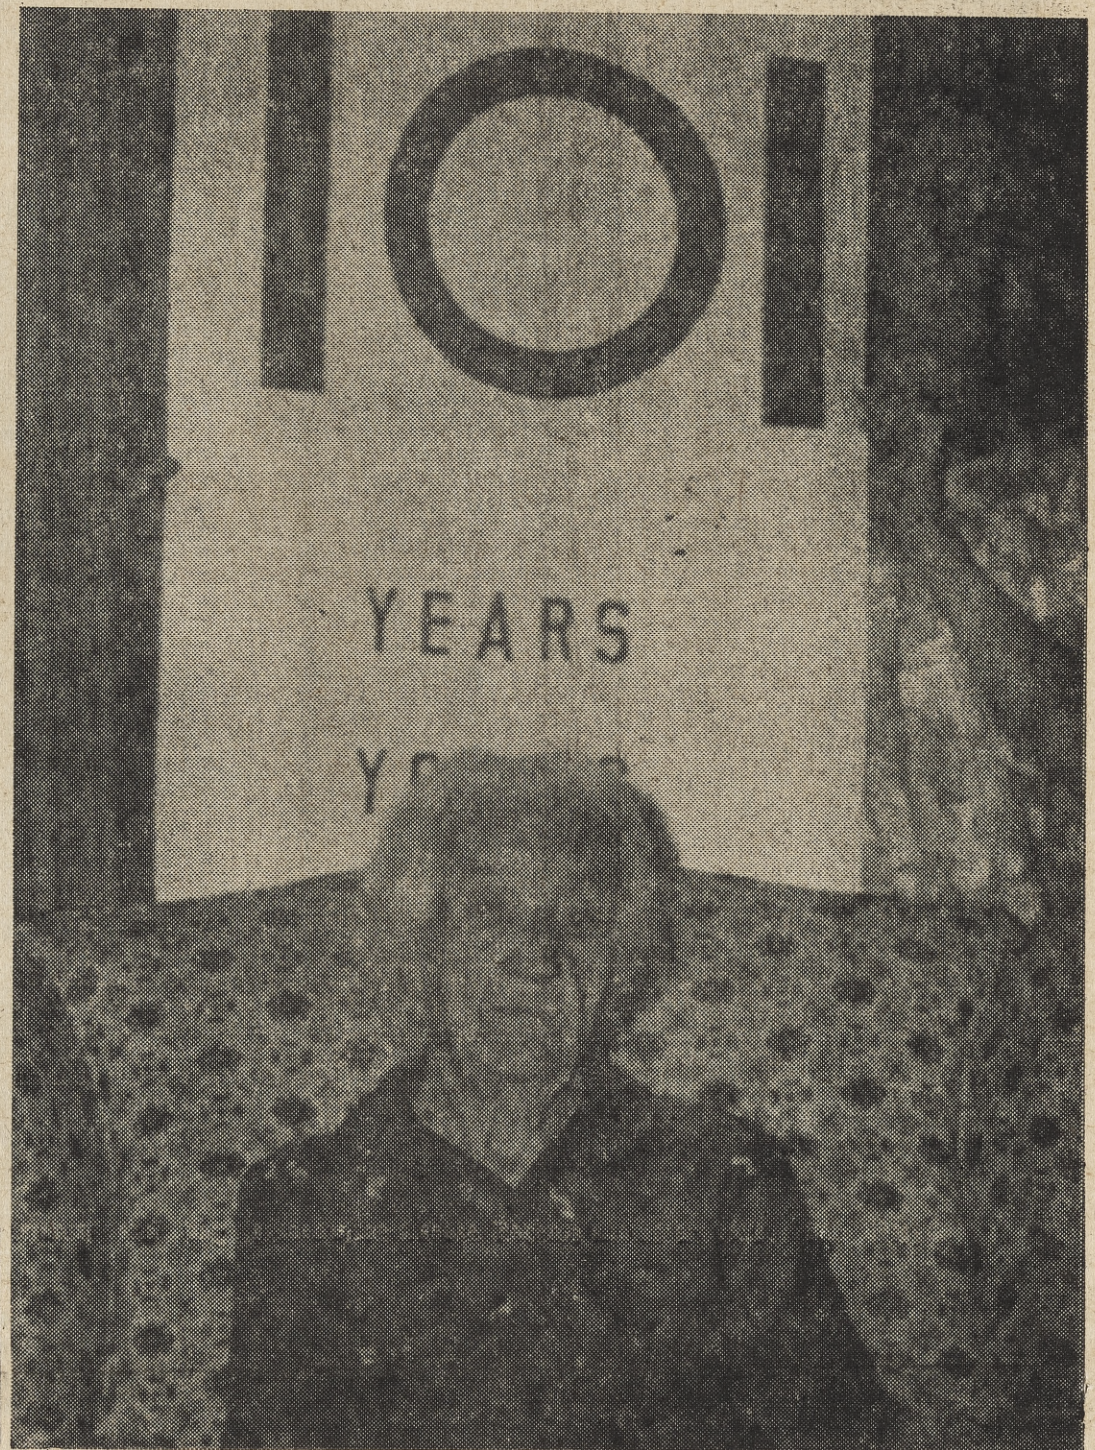

They are Bruce and Harry Angle, of San Diego, Fred Angle of Spring Valley, Mrs. Ellis Pine of Vista and Mrs. Paul Lunsford of Glendale, California. She has 10 grandchildren, 20 great-grandchildren and 9 great-great-grandchildren. However, only one great-grandson, David Angle, is left to carry on the Angle family name.

Hayes Services Held

Funeral services for Floyd C. Hayes, 60, of Highway 94, Spring Valley, were held Tuesday, Aug. 8 at Greenwood Mortuary, with burial in Greenwood Memorial Park. He died Aug. 6 in a hospital.

A native of Oklahoma, Hayes had lived in San Diego County 32 years. He was a retired custodian of the San Diego City School District.

Survivors include his widow, Buena; a son, Floyd C. Hayes Jr., of Santee; two daughters, Dolores Hayes and Mrs. Betty Begley, both of Spring Valley; three sisters, Mrs. Ann Stahl of San Diego, Mrs. Zelma Fairchild and Mrs. Cacyle Aldridge; seven grandchildren and one great grandchild.

CENTURY PLUS—Mrs. Amanda C. Angle, 95 58 La Mar st., Spring Valley, celebrated her 101st birthday at the home of her youngest son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Angle.

Mrs. Angle came to San Diego in 1925 and has spent a good portion of her life in Spring Valley.

Measles Immunization Urged By Health Dept.

The San Diego Department of Public Health urged measles immunization for all children who have not yet entered school and who have not yet had measles or measles vaccine.

Dr. J. B. Askew, director of public health, said, "Parents should make it a point to have their children protected against measles now during the summer. This is the ideal time to protect the young child against measles before the school year brings a greatly increased risk of exposure."

He emphasized that all children should be vaccinated against measles when they are one year of age. "The future elimination of measles in this county," Dr. Askew said, "depends on the protection of all children when they become a year old. These children will be protected against measles and its complications only if they are vaccinated against the disease. Parents should arrange for this protection with their family physician."

In addition to vaccine being available through private physicians, the San Diego Department of Public Health offers vaccinations against measles at regular immunization clinics held at all health centers in the county. The vaccinations are available to any child 12 months of age or over who is not yet in the first grade and who has not had measles or received measles vaccine.

Immunizations are given at the various health centers on the following schedule:

Primary Health Center, 1600 Pacific Highway, San Diego—every Tuesday from 8 to 10 a.m.; every Wednesday, Thursday from 1 to 4 p.m. Southeast Health Center, 3177 Oceanview blvd., San Diego—every Monday from 8 to 11 a.m.

Legislature Enacts Four Tax Changes

Higher tax rates, narrower brackets, initiation of a system of tax credits instead of exemptions, and a requirement that large taxpayers file estimates and prepay a portion of their State income tax were the principal personal income tax changes enacted by the Legislature last week.

The State personal income tax rates were increased to a maximum of 10 percent from a previous high of 7 percent. After an initial bracket of $2,000 at the 1 percent rate, the brackets were narrowed from $2,500 to $1,500 for each tax rate for single individuals and married individuals filing separate returns, and from $5,000 to $3,000 for taxpayers filing joint returns. The initial bracket for joint returns is $4,000. The new rates will be included in the instruction booklets mailed to taxpayers later this year, Martin Huff, Executive Officer, said.

The installment plan requires a taxpayer to make a prepayment on his 1967 tax of 5 percent of his 1966 tax liability. This payment is due by October 31, 1967. The prepayment requirement applies only to those taxpayers who pay more than $200 ($100 for married individuals filing separate returns) in State income taxes for 1966.

An alternative computation and payment may be made by those who expect their income to decline for 1967, but regardless of the revised computation, the estimate must be filed by October 31, 1967, and the payment must also be made at that time if the ($200 or $100) test is met.

A penalty of 10 percent will be assessed on that amount by which a payment falls short of the amount required to be paid as an estimate. In addition, interest of 6 percent per year will be charged on all unpaid amounts.

Imperial Corp. Earnings Drop

Imperial Corp. of America reported net earnings for the first half of 1967 of $1,519,260 or 20 cents per share on 7,759,497 common shares outstanding. This compares with $3,258,638 or 42 cents per share on 7,814,618 shares outstanding for the first half of 1966. Jack H. McDonald, president, attributed the decline to the increase in the rate of interest paid to savers and on borrowings. Interest expense was $23,691,105 the first half of this year, compared with $20,735,653 for the like period of 1966, an increase of $2,928,422.

McDonald said reduced rates paid on savings, which became effective July 1, coupled with a stronger savings inflow, should produce improved results during 1967's last half. Gross income for the first six months of this year was $31,354,477, compared with $30,146,694 for the like period of 1966.

Savings accounts of the corporation's 13 subsidiary savings and loan associations totaled $859,858,522, compared with $799,854,946 at that date a year ago, an increase of $60,003,576 during the 12-month period.

Loans outstanding totaled $917,345,999, an increase of $28,530,782 during the year. At June 30, consolidated assets of the corporation were $1,062,303,644.

Highway Tax Distribution Announced

SACRAMENTO — State Controller Houston I. Flournoy announced the distribution of $45,396,244 among the State, cities and counties as the June apportionment of highway users taxes.

San Diego County's share was $597,492.07. A total of $9,571,561 went directly to the counties; $6,125,799 to the State Highway Fund for Counties and Cities; $5,743,389 to the State Highway Fund for Cities; and $23,955,495 for expenditure on state highways.

The total was derived from the following sources: gasoline tax, $11,231,233; diesel fuel tax, $3,298,203; by transfer from the Motor Vehicle Transportation Tax Fund, $865,254; and the balance from miscellaneous sources.

Funeral Services Held For Doctor

Funeral services for Dr. Spencer V. Bell, an optometrist, living at 7564 Pacific ave., Lemon Grove, were held Aug. 4 at Cypress View Mortuary, with cremation following. He died Aug. 1 in a hospital.

Hog Cholera Outbreak Hits S.D. County

SACRAMENTO — The first outbreak of hog cholera in California in more than two years has been discovered on a ranch in San Diego County. All the infected and exposed hogs in the herd have been destroyed. Under the State Federal hog cholera control program, owners are indemnified by the State and Federal governments for animals destroyed.

The premises are being thoroughly cleaned and disinfected and will be maintained under quarantine until such time as they represent no danger of infecting other animals, or contributing to the spread of the disease to other parts of California.

Animal health officials of the Department warned hog producers of San Diego and other southern California counties to be on the lookout for cholera symptoms in their own herds.
